CONCERNED SHAREHOLDERS NOMINATE FOUR INDEPENDENT DIRECTORS TO THE BOARD OF EAGLE ENERGY INC.

May 4, 2017 (Calgary, Alberta) - Daniel Gundersen and Kingsway Financial Services Inc. (“Kingsway” and, together with Daniel Gundersen, the “Concerned Shareholders”) have concerns about the future of Eagle Energy Inc. (TSX: EGL) (“Eagle” or the “Company”). In late 2015, Mr. Gundersen negotiated the sale of Maple Leaf Royalties Corp. (“Maple Leaf”) to Eagle. He was the CEO of Maple Leaf at the time. In that transaction, Maple Leaf shareholders received 7,141,815 common shares of Eagle which represents 16.7% of the outstanding shares. The Concerned Shareholders currently exercise control or direction of 1,631,254 common shares of Eagle representing 3.8% of the outstanding shares.

On March 13, 2017, Eagle announced a new plan that included increased debt, suspension of its dividend and an expensive and onerous term loan. This announcement forced the Concerned Shareholders to respond. The Concerned Shareholders have expressed their dissatisfaction with the Company’s plan and recommended changes that would be in the best interests of shareholders. Their requests were rejected. The Concerned Shareholders believe that the Company is in immediate need of a stronger leadership team. Therefore, the Concerned Shareholders have submitted notice to Eagle that it will nominate four new independent directors for election at the upcoming Annual General Meeting to be held on June 14, 2017 (the “Meeting”).

Need for Change at Eagle

- Share Performance Has Been Dismal – The trading price of Eagle’s stock is down 70% since October 1, 2015, while the Energy Index is up 15% in the same time period.
- Board and Management Are Not Aligned With All Shareholders – They own only 2.1% of the Company.
- Overhead Costs Are Unsustainably High – Eagle’s general & administrative cash expenses are triple many of their peers.
- The New Term Loan Is Expensive and Onerous – Interest payments will increase significantly under the new term loan which has demanding financial covenants.
- Eagle’s New Plan Is a High-Risk Plan – Increasing capital expenditures and increasing debt levels increases risk to shareholders.

Concerned Shareholders Have A Better Plan

The Concerned Shareholders have developed a business plan to address Eagle’s current problems and maximize value for shareholders.

1. Replace the Board of Directors – A change of direction is required. We have nominated four highly-qualified and talented individuals for election.
2. Reduce Overhead – Immediate steps will be taken to reduce the cost structure of the business.
3. Sell Assets – The most logical and lowest-risk source of capital for Eagle is to sell assets.
4. Reduce Debt – Proceeds from asset sales will be used to reduce debt. By reducing debt, we will lower the risk profile of the company, and also decrease interest payment costs.
5. Maximize Value of Remaining Assets – Sale of assets will make Eagle a much simpler entity that would be more attractive to prospective buyers.

The Concerned Shareholders intend to file and disseminate an information circular in due course in order to permit shareholders of Eagle to make an informed decision in advance of the upcoming Meeting.

The Concerned Shareholders' Independent and Experienced Board Nominees

Replacing the current board of Eagle with four independent, aligned and highly qualified business professionals offers shareholders a great opportunity from this point forward. Barrel of Oil Equivalent: Where amounts are expressed on a barrel of oil equivalent ("boe") basis, natural gas volumes have been converted to boe at a ratio of 6,000 cubic feet of natural gas to one barrel of oil equivalent. This conversion ratio is based upon an energy equivalent conversion method primarily applicable at the burner tip and does not represent value equivalence at the wellhead. Boe figures may be misleading, particularly if used in isolation.
